

RESTAURANT

PHOTO — DINING ROOM, LE PETIT MOULIN

Le Petit Moulin

A neighbourhood bistro that still cooks like it's 1962 — and means it as a compliment to itself.

★★★★☆ 4.4 / 5

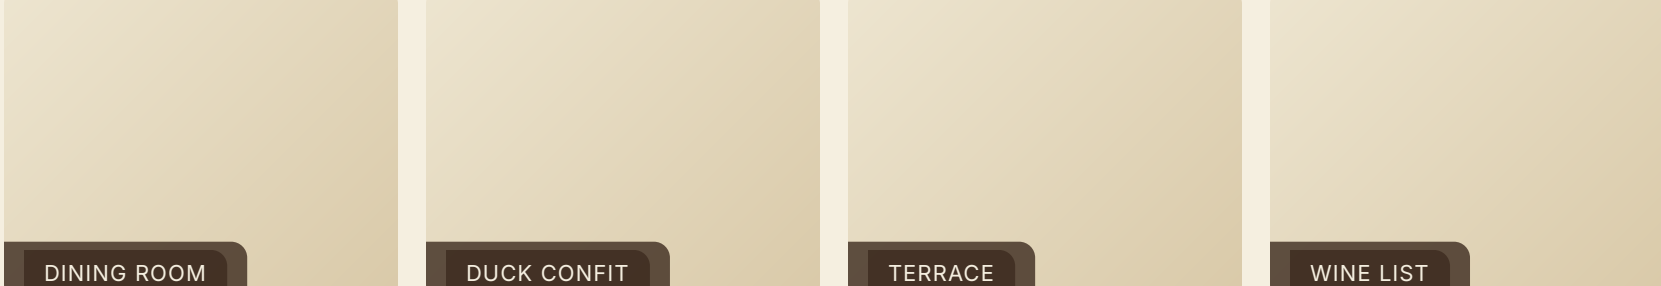

What we love

- ✓ The duck confit hasn't changed in three decades, and that's exactly the point.
- ✓ A six-table terrace facing a quiet cobbled street most tourists walk past.
- ✓ The owner still greets regulars by name — and remembers what they ordered last time.

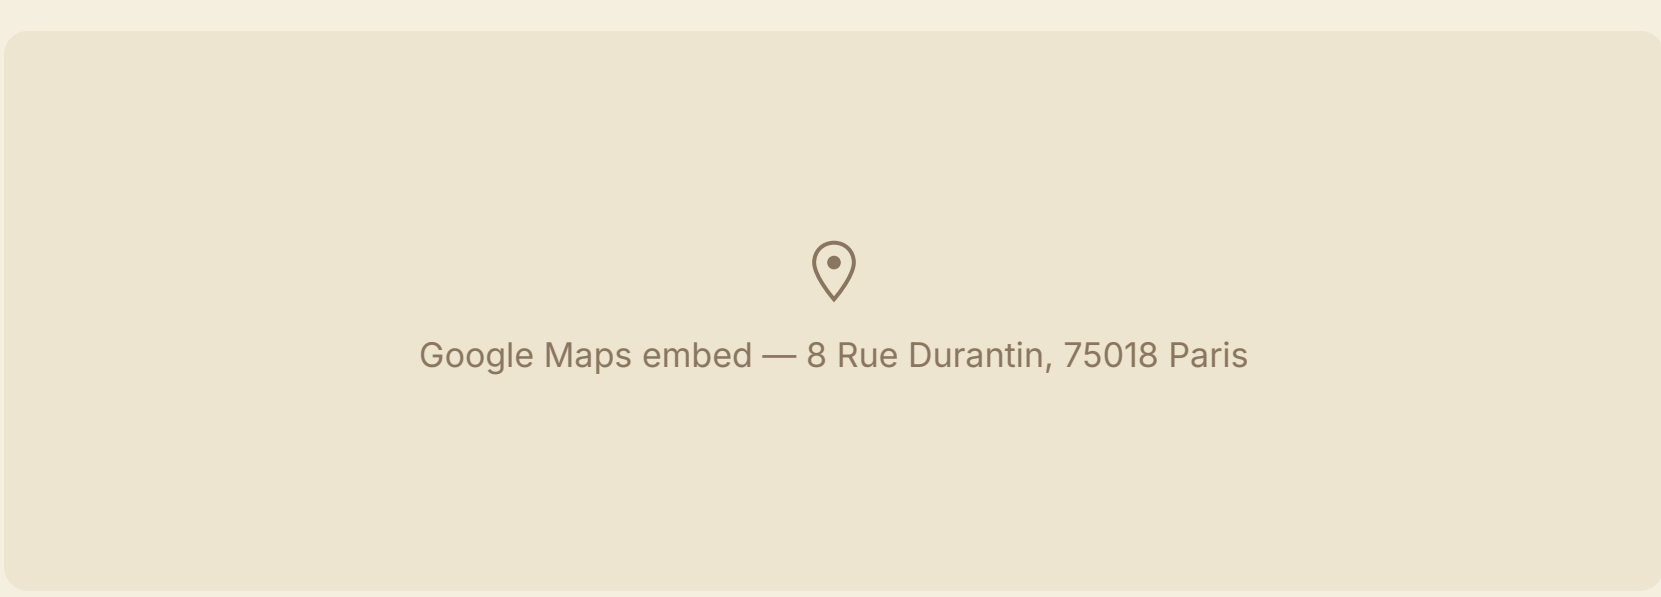

About this place

Tucked on a side street off Rue Lepic, Le Petit Moulin has resisted every wave of reinvention that's swept through the neighbourhood. The menu is short, the wine list leans heavily on the Loire, and the dining room still seats barely thirty people on a busy night. It isn't trying to impress — it's trying to feed you well, which it does.

Gallery

Map

From the blog

CAFÉ TERRACE

EAT & DRINK

Five bistros that haven't changed in 50 years

MARKET STALL

EAT & DRINK

A walking guide to Rue Lepic's market

Nearby

MOULIN DE LA GALETTE

3 MIN WALK

Moulin de la Galette

RUE LEPIC MARKET

2 MIN WALK

Rue Lepic market street

SQUARE SUZANNE-BUISSON

7 MIN WALK

Square Suzanne-Buisson

PRACTICAL INFO

Cuisine	Traditional French
Price range	€€
Avg. budget / person	€38
Reservation	Recommended
Ambiance	Casual, Terrace
Don't miss	Duck confit
Hours	12–2:30 / 7–10:30pm
Address	8 Rue Durantin
Métro	Abbesses

Reserve a table

Insider tip

Ask for the terrace table closest to the corner — it's the only one that catches the afternoon sun.